We are looking to recruit new photographers to join an expanding Photography team.

Experience

Furcation is a furry event so we are looking for people who have ideally photographed furies, that can be at local meets, charity events, or conventions. If you have other relevant experience, tell us. We are looking for people who can create / capture memories for our attendees and have a can-do attitude. Enthusiastic amateurs make up convention / event staff, so that's what we are looking for. We are a small co-operative team and happy to share our experience and we are open to learn from you too, you should be comfortable or look forward to working in such a collaborative environment.

You do not need a formal degree or photography training etc for this role but if you have it that's ok too.

Equipment

Yes, you need some, (camera, battery, Memory card, etc) but it doesn't need to be the latest 50 Megapixel Camera. Often we hear "oh but my camera isn't good enough" or "its old" but when we see the photos you take with it we can be blown away.
